Gorkem Memisoglu - MSCA postdoctoral Fellow

Gorkem is an experimental Physicist and MSCA Postdoctoral Fellow in project MULTIPLY, currently on secondment at Aston University from Universidad del País Vasco. Gorkem received her PhD in 2015 for her work on hybrid UV-A photodetector preparation and characterization. Having worked in industry for 6 years Gorkem is the inventor or co-inventor of 58 patent applications in both Europe and the US in a wide range of areas, including photonics, optoelectronic devices and consumer electronics.

Annmarie Hanlon - Academic and Practitioner in Digital Marketing

Annmarie is an academic and practitioner in digital marketing strategy and the application of social media for business. Originally a graduate in French and Linguistics from University of London, Annmarie gained a Master's in Business Administration, focusing on marketing planning. She studied for the Chartered Institute of Marketing Diploma for which she won the Worshipful Company of Marketors' award for the best results worldwide. She subsequently gained a distinction for the Chartered Institute of Marketing's E-Marketing Award and her PhD investigated social media marketing within organisations and she was awarded the Mais Scholarship.

As Course Leader for Social Media Management on the International Executive MBA programme at the University of St Gallen, she planned, designed and delivered this intensive elective course.

Stephen Harris – Editor of “The Conversation” UK

Stephen covers science, technology and health for The Conversation. He previously spent five years as senior reporter and special projects editor at The Engineer, the world's oldest technology magazine and professional journal.

Luke Southan – Technology Transfer Manager at Aston University

Luke works as the Technology Transfer Manager at Aston. Previously he held a lectureship in Biology and worked as a research scientist in industry in both Germany and the UK.

Rachel Won – Internal Editor Nature Photonics

Rachel joined Nature Photonics in June 2006 from Aston University's Business Partnership Unit in Birmingham, UK where she worked as a Medici Fellow commercializing photonics research. She obtained her PhD in optical fibre sensing, microwave photonics and fibre nonlinearities as a member of Aston's Photonics Research Group. Prior to that, Rachel worked for Philips Optical Storage in Singapore as an Optics Engineer. She holds a Master's degree from Nanyang Technological University, Singapore and a Bachelor's degree from the National University of Malaysia. Rachel is based in London.
